Apart from housing the intellectual cream of the crop, NIT Jalandhar boasts of one of the best infrastructural facilities among all NITs.

Each department has well functional laboratories equipped with all the necessities to keep students at par with the dynamic technological world.

ANALYTICS

Based on the feedback from some of our recruiters, we have established strong platforms for Research, Analytics and Soft Skills.

Analytics Cell was established with a vision to equip students with necessary skills to excel in the analytics sector. Analytics Cell organises free workshops for students of all years and disciples on basic principles of Analytics. The team, apart from working on their independent projects also participates in Kaggle Competitions in order to sharpen their skills.

NIT Jalandhar has a fairly good environment for research. However, the real challenge was to involve students in related activities from their very first year of under graduation. Research Cell was established with a vision to produce better results through a blend of innovative ideas from the young and expertise of the experienced.

Interdisciplinary projects are encouraged and application oriented approach is preferred for Undergraduate Students.

More than 100 students from different years, programs and disciplines are already linked to this initiative.

RESEARCH COMMUNICATION

Ability to communicate effectively is one of the most important skills for an individual. Communication Cell has been established in order to provide basic soft skill training to all students of the institute for free. The main stress is on Verbal Communication and Body Language.

The overall quality of communication has steadily improved after the inception of Communication Cell.
