Shipwreck was held on October 11, 2020 by the WeCan club. Owing to the Covid-19 Pandemic its was conducted as an online event via Google Meet. Shipwreck was aimed at testing & improving convincing skills which are essentially useful in the HR interviews for placements to answer questions such as, “Why should we hire you?”

The event saw an active participation of students role-playing as characters from different walks of life, presenting their views why should they be saved from a “wrecking ship”.

The event was conducted and presided over by sophomore and pre-final year students.

At the culmination of the event, the organizing team took a live feedback from the students about the conduct and nature of the event and whether more of such events should be conducted in the future. The participants found the event to be quite interesting and enjoyable while learning the importance and techniques required for convincing power. In an nutshell the event was a success and an excellent way to learn the worth of being convincing and students responded as being interested in events of similar nature in the future as well.
